

3-2 Double Screen Curl

3-2 Formation

Start in a 3-2 formation. Favor one side of the court to tip opponent zone defense.

Guard entry pass to wing

Guard initiates with entry pass to the strong-side wing.

Post sets screen for guard

Post sets backscreen for guard while wing dribbles down to create more space.

Guard cuts to ball-side

Guard cuts ball-side ready to receive pass.

Wing pass to cutting guard

Wing can pass for give-and-go or opt to drive to the basket.

Double screen near baseline

Weak side post and wing lines up to set a double screen at the post.

Ball reversal - wing to key

If guard does not get the give-and-go pass, guard curls at the baseline to the opposite elbow using the double screen. OPTION - flare to the short corner or wing.

Pass to guard at elbow

Ball is reversed from wing to key and back to guard at the elbow for the open jumper.

Guard takes jumper

Guard can shoot or drive. OPTION to drop to post on the rebound cut or kickout to either wing. Player at top of key plays safety. Other variations can also be created using different options on splitting up the double screen.
